INTRODUCTION

ORIGIN OF THE RULOFFSON AND ROELOFSON FAMILY NAMES

The names Ruloffson and Roelofson are derived from Rudolphus, or Rudolph, the name of a German emperor. From Rudolph have come the names Ruloff, Dolph, Ralph, and Rolf, the latter in Hollandish being Roelf and Roelof. These names are used both as christian, or baptismal, names and as family, or surnames. There are on record families named Ruloff that lived in Germany. Some of these emigrated to Denmark, where their descendants were known as Ruloffsons, and some emigrated to Holland where their descendants were known as Roelofsons. Thus originated two great branches of the German Ruloffs, the Denmark branch and the Holland branch. The Danish people originally came from the province of Dacia, now upper Hungary and Transylvania. Their language now is a variation from the Dacian and is largely a Germanic form of speech. The name Dutch was applied to the German people living nearest to them, the Hollanders, whose language is an idiomatic or dialectic form of the German, often called "Low Dutch" to distinguish it from the "High Dutch," or German proper. As found in family records, upon tombstones, in church, court, and other public records, the German-Danish and the German-Hollandish family name is spelt variously, as Ruloffson, Rulofson, Rolofson, Roelofson, Ruliffson, Rulifson, Rulison, and in the first U. S. Census of 1790 Ruluffson.

THE RULOFFSON AND ROELOFSON FAMILIES IN AMERICA

It is a matter of history that the Dutch established a settlement called New Amsterdam (now New York City), in 1614. During the years that followed immigrants came over continually from Holland, Germany, and other European countries, some of whom found homes northward along the Hudson and Mohawk Rivers, some in New Amsterdam and Long Island, and in New Jersey. The Holland immigrants in New Jersey settled for the most part in the northern tier of counties bordering New York State, and overflowed into Pennsylvania where they were known as the "Pennsylvania Dutch." The German immigrants in New Jersey settled for the most part farther south, in the valleys of the Raritan River and its tributaries.

There are traditional accounts of the origin of the Ruloffson families in this country. The story is that "way back" in the old country a liberty-loving man by the name of Rolof, or Rulof, engaged in a rebellion and was imprisoned. His three sons escaped to this country, where they called themselves Rulofsons—the sons of Rulof. One son settled in Maine, one in New York, and one in Pennsylvania. Traditional accounts of early ancestors are of necessity often distorted, exaggerated, exceeding truth, and as data for a genealogical record, unreliable, though they may have a basis in facts. The Ruloffson families in this country are of the Danish branch of the German Ruloffs. The first definite and authentic account of this branch is found in a work published in 1895 entitled "The Early Germans of New Jersey—Their History, Churches, and Genealogies, By Theodore Frelinghuysen Chambers." This work is in the Genealogical department of the Newberry Library, Chicago. It outlines the record of Ruloffson families in New Jersey up to the year 1795. The page headings spell the name Roelofson, while the records themselves spell the name Ruloffson, thus indicating that the Dutch and Danish branches of the family are treated together as one great family whose members were closely related by ties of blood.

The compiler of this volume has the genealogies of many of the Holland Roelofsons in America, but has restricted the records in this volume to the Danish branch. LAURENS RULOFFSON, as far as known, was the first Ruloffson to arrive in America from Denmark, and the following records have to deal only with his descendants and with families allied to them by marriage. He came to America in 1714 and settled in New Jersey. Among his children were Roelof and Hermanes Ruloffson.

THE RULOFFSONS AND DESCENDANTS IN NEW YORK STATE

The oldest son of Roelof Ruloffson was LAWRENCE RULOFFSON, born in Hunterdon county, New Jersey, in 1740, where he married. After the Revolutionary War he moved with his family to Montgomery county, New York. Hermanes Ruloffson had two sons named ABRAHAM and HARMON RULIFFSON, both of whom, after the Revolutionary War, moved with their families to New York State, Abraham settling in Montgomery county, and Harmon settling in Schoharie county. These three, Lawrence, Abraham, and Harmon, were the first to settle in New York State. Their descendants are many, and form three great branches of the family tree. There were other Ruliffsons who moved from New Jersey to New York State at a subsequent date. The compiler of this volume has a very complete record of the New York branches of the family, a record which constitutes the greater part of this volume.

EASTERN NEW YORK STATE IN PIONEER DAYS

At an early date nearly all of the eastern part of New York State was called Tryon county. It embraced a district extending from St. Lawrence River and Lake Ontario to Lake Champlain and the Adirondack Mountains, and southward into what are now Delaware, Ulster, and Dutchess counties. Afterward this district was named Montgomery county. The early settlers underwent great hardships and braved many dangers, for the district was a wilderness, and parties of French and Indians often raided the settlements and scalped men, women, and children with unbridled ferocity. As a defence against these savage attacks and to protect the women and children, block houses surrounded by palisades were built, to which settlers fled when danger threatened.

As the number of settlers increased, Montgomery county was divided into separate counties whose boundaries were often changed, large counties made smaller and new counties formed. The counties were divided into districts and the districts into towns, or townships. The Mohawk district included Fort Hunter and Caugnawaga, afterward called the towns of Mohawk and Florida. It was 35 miles from Albany, and began to be settled by the Dutch and Germans in 1650. Canajoharie included Cherry Valley, now in Otsego county, and Harpersfield, now in Schoharie and Delaware counties. Palatine, north of Mohawk River, included Stone Arabia, and German Flats near the town of Herkimer. Later, Schoharie and Otsego counties were formed from Albany and Montgomery counties. In 1790, when the first U. S. Census was taken, there were only seventeen counties in New York State.

The valleys of Mohawk River and its tributaries were very fertile, and here the early settlers made their homes. The country north of Mohawk River was a succession of hills, gradually rising to the base of the Adirondack Mountains. The valley of Schoharie Creek lay to the south of Mohawk River and extended to the foothills of the Catskill Mountains, in which mountains the stream had its source. To the west of Schoharie valley were the high lands in what is now Otsego county. In this plateau, in places over 2000 feet above the ocean level, the Susquehanna and Delaware rivers had their sources. All this part of the State of New York, before the Revolutionary War, was called Montgomery county, a district which far exceeded in area that of Montgomery county as it exists at the present time. And into this county came Lawrence Ruloffson and his family, and Abraham Ruliffson and Harmon Ruliffson and their families, in the pioneer days.

The data for the following Genealogies have been procured from many sources—from histories of Colonial times; from public records of births, marriages, and deaths; from State and county histories; from Church histories; from available family records, and from information furnished by correspondence. It has taken more than ten years and much labor to collect and put in proper order the matter thus obtained. Difficulties have been encountered, as valuable public records have been destroyed by fire, many family Bible records have become lost, or never have been kept, and in some cases records have been refused. But it is believed that such as have been obtained are as correct as it is possible to make them.

To all persons who have contributed to the matter of this volume or otherwise aided in its preparation, the compiler acknowledges his indebtedness and most gratefully returns sincere thanks.

PLAN OF THIS GENEALOGICAL RECORD

The names of persons in the following genealogical record are arranged in Generations. It is an account of Laurens Ruloffson and his descendants through nine generations. Laurens Ruloffson, having been, it is believed, the first person of that name in America, he is recorded as of the First Generation, his children as the Second Generation, their children as the Third Generation, and so on. The record starts in the year 1689 and closes in the year 1918. Each person recorded is assigned a separate number for identification and reference. Females are recorded by their maiden names, not by their married names. After the name of each person, whose father or mother is known, is a number in parenthesis () which refers to such parent. All the names are indexed in alphabetical order.

PLAN OF THE INDEX

The Index contains the name of each person found in the Record, and numbered the same as it is in the Record. The page on which each person is recorded is also given. Thus the Index gives three ways of finding each person's name in the Record—by the assigned number, by the number in parenthesis, and by the page number.

HOW TO TRACE ONE'S ANCESTORS

Suppose, for example, we wish to know the ancestors of George Funkey.

First, find his name in the Index among the names beginning with the letter F. It will be seen that his number is 1576 in the Ninth Generation, and he is the son of (1268). His parents would be recorded among the names in the Eighth Generation.

Second, turn to the names in the Eighth Generation and find the number 1268, when it will be seen that his mother was Elizabeth Julia Whitcomb and his father Frank Funkey. After the mother's name is the number (777).

Third, turn to the names in the Seventh Generation and find the number 777, when it will be seen that Elizabeth Julia Whitcomb was the daughter of Hattie E. Rulison and her father was William G. Whitcomb. After Hattie E. Rulison's name is the number (386).

Fourth, turn to the names in the Sixth Generation and find the number 386, when it will be seen that Hattie E. Rulison was the daughter of George Rulison and her mother was Julia A. Sanderson. After George Rulison's name is the number (145).

Fifth, turn to the names in the Fifth Generation and find the number 145, when it will be seen that George Rulison was the son of Parker Rulison and his mother was Eliza Burhans. After Parker Rulison's name is the number (47).

Sixth, turn to the names in the Fourth Generation and find the number 47, when it will be seen that Parker Rulison was the son of Herman Rulison and his mother was Polly Prudence Butler. After Herman Rulison's name is the number (10).

Seventh, turn to the names in the Third Generation and find the number 10, when it will be seen that Herman Rulison was the son of Lawrence Ruloffson and his mother was Elizabeth Barnhart. After Lawrence Ruloffson's name is the number (4).

Eighth, turn to the names in the Second Generation and find the number 4, when it will be seen that Lawrence Ruloffson was the son of Roelof Ruloffson and his mother was Catharine Bodine. After Roelof Ruloffson's name is the number (1).

Ninth, turn to the First Generation and find that Roelof Ruloffson was the son of Laurens Ruloffson and his mother was Catharine Shuman.

For a birds-eye view of the descent of George Funkey from Laurens Ruloffson, down through the generations, the names thus found may be arranged in the following order:—(see next page).

- First Gen. Laurens Ruloffson, g-g-g-g-g grandfather.
Catharine Shuman, g-g-g-g-g grandmother.
- Second Gen. Roelof Ruloffson, g-g-g-g-g grandfather.
Catharine Bodine, g-g-g-g-g grandmother.
- Third Gen. Lawrence Ruloffson, g-g-g-g grandfather.
Elizabeth Barnhart, g-g-g-g grandmother.
- Fourth Gen. Herman Rulison, great-great-great grandfather.
Polly Prudence Butler, great-great-great grandmother.
- Fifth Gen. Parker Rulison, great-great grandfather.
Eliza Burhans, great-great grandmother.
- Sixth Gen. George Rulison, great grandfather.
Julia A. Sanderson, great grandmother.
- Seventh Gen. Hattie E. Rulison, grandmother.
William G. Whitcomb, grandfather.
- Eighth Gen. Elizabeth Julia Whitcomb, mother.
Frank Funkey, father.
- Ninth Gen. George Funkey.

FIRST GENERATION

- 1 LAURENS RULOFFSON was born in Copenhagen, Denmark, Europe, in 1689. It is believed that his parents were Germans, or of German descent, who had lived in Denmark for some time. There is no record at hand of the name of his father or mother, or of brothers or sisters. Like many young men in Denmark, Germany, and Holland, he emigrated to America to better his fortunes in the New World, where hundreds of his native countrymen and relatives had preceded him, for it is recorded that "there were many of his name in and around New Amsterdam and in New Jersey from a very early date, and they may have been related to Laurens." He arrived in New York City in 1714. The bans of his marriage to
- 2 Catharine Shuman, daughter of Hermann Schumann, a potter, were published in the Lutheran Church in that city May 16, 1715, and he was married there June 26, 1715. His wife was born in February, 1695, and died in July, 1776. How long Laurens lived in New York City or what was his occupation is not recorded, but not long after his marriage he moved to New Jersey and settled, it is thought, in Middlesex County near the present city of New Brunswick. The fertile valleys of Raritan River and its tributaries were occupied at an early date by German settlers, and it was but natural that he should seek a home among his own people, who spoke the same language and professed the same religion. These German settlers were a religious people and members of the Lutheran Church. Like most of the German settlers, Laurens probably became a farmer. He died in 1771.

His children were:—Laurens, Roelof, Hermanes, and Elizabeth. No doubt there were others, for families in those early days were large, but the compiler has no record of other children.

SECOND GENERATION

- 3 LAURENS RULOFFSON, son of (1). Baptised March 27, 1716. No further record. Probably died young.
- 4 ROELOF RULOFFSON, son of (1). Born Sept. 26, 1717. The grown-up sons, in order to relieve the father of their support, left the parental roof and sought homes in a comparatively unsettled region where land was more easily obtained and cheaper. Accordingly, when a young man, Roelof Ruloffson went westward from Middlesex county through Somerset county to Hunterdon county, New Jersey, where he married
- 5 Catharine Bodine, widow of Jacob Bodine (see record of Bodine families. Her maiden name is unknown.) Their children were: Lawrence, John, Christian, and Leah. Catharine died—date not given—and Roelof
- 6 married for his second wife Elizabeth Leek, born Oct. 27, 1732. No record of her death. Their children were: Isaac, Anna, Abraham, and Henry. Roelof Ruloffson was probably a farmer. He made his will May 22, 1783—died in Nov., 1783—will was probated Jan. 2, 1784.
- 7 HERMANES (HERMAN) RULOFFSON, son of (1). Born in July, 1719, in Middlesex county, New Jersey. He
- 8 married Margaretta Van Horn (Holland Dutch), daughter of Abraham Van Horn. No record of her birth. She died in 1790. Their children—twelve in number—were: Laurence, Abraham, Catharine, Anna, Mary, Margaret, Rulof, Eleanora, Harmon, Cornelius, Frederick, and Elizabeth. (The compiler of this record was given the names of these children, dates of birth, etc., in the handwriting of Hermanes Ruloffson. These children changed their family names from Ruloffson to Ruliffson). Hermanes Ruloffson was probably a farmer. He died in March, 1805.

- 9 ELIZABETH RULOFFSON, daughter of (1), was born about 1721 and died about 1805. The compiler has no further record of her at hand. The marriage of daughters often results in losing all trace of their descendants.

THIRD GENERATION

- ① 10 LAWRENCE RULOFFSON, son of (4), was born in Hunterdon county, New Jersey, Nov. 28, 1740. He married Elizabeth Barnhart (German descent) about 1766. She was born Jan. 28, 1743, and died Sept. 8, 1820. In 1768 Lawrence lived in the town of Tewksbury, Hunterdon county, New Jersey, and was one of the trustees of the Lutheran Church at New Germantown in that county, having seven and a half acres of land attached thereto. (The church record spelt his name Rulifson.) After the Revolutionary War, and prior to 1790, he moved with his family to Montgomery county, New York, which at that time included the larger part of what is now Schoharie county and parts of adjacent counties to the north and west and east. The U. S. Census of 1790 recorded him as the head of a family of three sons over 16 years of age, one under 16, and three daughters, all living in the town of Mohawk, Montgomery county, N. Y. (The Census record spelt his name Ruluffson, but disclaimed the accuracy of spelling family names found in census records.) Lawrence was probably a farmer. He died April 8, 1814. His children were: Samuel, Herman, John, William, Maria, Sarah, and Catharine.
- 2 12 JOHN RULOFFSON, son of (4). No further record at hand.
- 3 13 CHRISTIAN RULOFFSON, son of (4). See Record of the Roelofson families—Third Generation.
- 4 14 LEAH RULOFFSON, daughter of (4). No record of the date of her marriage, but her husband was
- 15 Jacob Scharpenstein (name changed to Sharp), who died June 4, 1782. Children were: Maria and Anna.

- 5 16 ISAAC RULOFFSON, son of (4). His first wife was
- 17 Elizabeth Trimmer, born Dec. 11, 1776. Children: Christopher, Ann, David, John, Elizabeth, Sarah, Mary, and Philip. His second wife was
- 18 Miss Roelofson. No children. In church history it is stated that Isaac Ruloffson was baptised by Rev. Hendricks, pastor of the Lutheran church at German Valley, Morris county, New Jersey, along with Isaac Stryker, some time between 1816 and 1822. Isaac was trustee of this church, one of the oldest in New Jersey, a church associated with the Lutheran church in New Germantown of which Lawrence Ruloffson was a trustee. In those pioneer days one pastor preached in a number of what were called Associated Churches, each of these churches contributing to the support of the pastor.
- 6 19 ANNA RULOFFSON, daughter of (4). Nov. 20, 1796,
- 20 she married Philip Kern, son of Christopher Kern.
- 7 21 ABRAHAM RULOFFSON, son of (4). No record of birth. Died at age of 5 years.
- 8 22 HENRY RULOFFSON, son of (4). Baptised Oct. 29, 1769. It is recorded that perhaps he was the one who lived at Readington, Hunterdon county, New Jersey,
- 23 who married Maria Van Sickle. Children: Cornelius, Nathaniel, Mary, Henry, Jemima, Julia, Sarah, Joel, John and Mahala.
- 9 24 LAURENCE RULIFFSON, son of (7). Born in Middlesex county, New Jersey, Nov. 28, 1741. Married
- 25 Anna (Hannah) Young, Nov. 4, 1781. Wife's parents lived near Somerville, N. J.
- 2 26 ABRAHAM RULIFFSON, son of (7). Born in Middlesex county, New Jersey, April 20, 1744. Married 27 Hannah Van Horn (Holland Dutch). After the Revolutionary War, and prior to 1790, he moved with his family to Montgomery county, New York, and settled on a farm near Mill Point, on Schoharie Creek. The U. S. Census of 1790 recorded him as the head of a family of three sons over 16 years of age, and three daughters, all living in the town of Mohawk, Montgomery county, New York. He died about 1820 and was buried near his home, a boulder now marking the site of his grave. His old homestead farm and house is now (in 1918) owned by one of his descendants, and has never been out of the possession of a Rulifson. There is no record at hand of the birth or death of his wife. His children were: Hermanus (Herman or Harmon), Ralph, Abram, Elizabeth, Catharine, Polly, Margaret, Mary, and Frederick.

3 28 CATHARINE RULIFFSON, daughter of (?). Born Feb. 29 20, 1746. Married John Trimmer.

4 30 ANNA (MORE) RULIFFSON, daughter of (?). Born Sept. 8, 1748. Died in Sept., 1791.

5 31 MARY (MARIA) RULIFFSON, daughter of (?). Born 32 Feb. 10, 1751. Married Conrad Swackhamer, Feb. 3, 1774—died Sept. 24, 1791.

6 33 MARGARET RULIFFSON, daughter of (?). Born Nov. 7, 34 1752. Married Christopher Hildebrant, Jan. 25, 1781.

7 35 RULOF RULIFFSON, son of (?). Born Dec. 8, 1754. No record at hand of his marriage or death. He was a soldier in the British army in the Revolutionary war. After the war he moved to New Brunswick, Canada, where he died. On record a son named William Harmanes.

8 36 ELEANORA (ELENOR) RULIFFSON, daughter of (?). 36A Born April 18, 1757. Married Peter Wirz, Feb. 3, 1774.

- 37 HARMON RULIFFSON, son of (7). Born in Middlesex county, New Jersey, Sept. 15, 1760. There is in the Adjutant General's office in New Jersey a record which states that Harmon Ruliffson served as a private soldier in Capt. Richard Stilwell's Company, Fourth Regiment, Hunterdon county, New Jersey militia, during the Revolutionary War. After the war he married Susanna Beemer, Aug. 1, 1784. She was born Dec. 17, 1766. He moved with his family, presumably from Hunterdon county, New Jersey, to Schoharie county, New York, in 1795, and settled on a farm in the town of Gilboa in the southern part of the county. He lived on this farm until his death which occurred March 24, 1851. On his tombstone it is recorded that he was one of the early settlers in that region of the State. He was a very strong man physically, and lived to a great age. He was one of the organizers of the Dutch Reformed Church at South Gilboa, Schoharie county, N. Y., the first in that region. His wife died in 1854. Children born in New Jersey were: Mercy, Margaret (Peggy), Experience, Mary (Polly), and Susannah; born in Schoharie county, N. Y., were: Elizabeth, Harmon, Isaac, Ruliff, Peter S., and Lydia.
- 39 CORNELIUS RULIFFSON, son of (7). Born in New Jersey, March 6, 1763. He married Jane ———. No record at hand of her birth or death. He lived at Readington, Hunterdon county, New Jersey, where he died. His will was probated March 10, 1827. Children were: Elizabeth, Elijah, Lydia, Samuel, Sarah, were: Elizabeth, Elijah, Lydia, Samuel, Sarah, and and Netty.
- 41 FREDERICK RULIFFSON, son of (7). Born in New Jersey, Feb. 14, 1765. He probably moved to Schoharie county, New York, for a marriage record in the Dutch Reformed church at South Gilboa, Schoharie county, N. Y., states that Frederick Ruliffson and 42 Elshe (Elsie) Low were married in 1803. No further record at hand.

1 2 43 ELIZABETH RULIFFSON, daughter of (7). Born in New 44 Jersey, April 26, 1768. She married John Scobi, Feb. 14, 1793. No further record at hand.

FOURTH GENERATION

44A DAVID RULOFFSON, son of (16). Married

44B Elizabeth Frone. Children: Isaac.

45 SAMUEL RULISON, son of (10), born in Hunterdon county, New Jersey, March 27, 1767. He went with his father's family to Montgomery county, New York, prior to 1790. The U. S. Census of 1790 recorded him as the head of a family in the town of Mohawk, Montgomery county, N. Y. He married

46 Hannah ———, born April 19, 1774. After his marriage he moved to Plattsburg, N. Y., and later returned to Montgomery county, N. Y., where he died about 1805. Children: Rachel, Lawrence, Daniel, Samuel, John, James, and Betsey.

2 47 HERMAN (OR HARMON) RULISON, son of (10), born in Hunterdon county, New Jersey, Aug. 19, 1770. He went with his father's family to Montgomery county, New York, prior to 1790. At one time he lived at or near Esperance, now in Schoharie county, N. Y. In 1796 or 1797 he married

48 Polly Prudence Butler, born Sept. 22, 1769. From 1776 to 1780 Montgomery and Schoharie counties were raided several times by bands of Indians and Tories. It is related of Polly Prudence Butler (by her daughter Mary Polly) that in one of these raids she fled to a fort, or blockhouse, in the town of Florida, Montgomery county, N. Y., for protection against the Indians (perhaps the raid of Sir John Johnson and 800 Indians in 1780). Her daughter claimed for her a relationship to a family branch of Benjamin F. Butler, a general in the civil war. She died in 1800, leaving two children, Parker and Mary

49 Polly. In 1801 Herman Rulison married for his second wife Sarah (Sally) Jones (Welsh descent), born June 3, 1780. About 1820 Herman, with his family, moved to Jefferson county, N. Y., and settled on a farm in the town of Alexandria, near the village of Theresa, on Indian river. He died July 11, 1836. His wife died Nov. 14, 1861. Children by the second wife were: Nelson J., Cornelius, Charles, Hannah, Lydia, Rhoda Ann, Minerva, Wesley, Harmon, and Hiram Mills.

3 50 JOHN RULISON, son of (10), born in Hunterdon county, New Jersey, in 1772. He went with his father's family to Montgomery county, New York, prior to 1790. It is thought that he lived for a time at or near Florida, Orange county, N. Y., where he married an Aunt of William H. Seward, who was Secretary of State in President Lincoln's Cabinet. Wm. H. Seward was born in Florida, Orange county, N. Y., in 1801, and this aunt was Seward's father's sister. But perhaps John Rulison married his wife in the town of Florida, Montgomery county, N. Y. About 1792 he moved to Mohawk, now in Herkimer county, N. Y., from which place he moved to Oswego county, N. Y., and lived near the village of Parish. Afterward he moved to Hannibal, Oswego county, N. Y., where he died in 1839. No record at hand of birth or death of his wife. His children were Roswell, John, Samuel, and Martin.

4 52 WILLIAM RULISON, son of (10), born about 1774. No further record at hand.

5 53 MARIA RULISON, daughter of (10), born May 27, 1775. No further record.

6 54 SARAH RULISON, daughter of (10), baptised Nov. 6, 1778. No further record.

- 55 CATHARINE RULISON, daughter of (10), baptised April 1, 1781. No further record.
- 56 MARIA SHARP, daughter of (14), born Feb. 16, 1779. No further record.
- 57 ANNA SHARP, daughter of (14), born in 1781. No further record.
- 58 CHRISTOPHER RULOFFSON, son of (16), born in 1797, died in 1857. Married Mary Hann. Children were: Mary Ann, William Hann, and Sarah.
- 59 ANN RULOFFSON, daughter of (16), born in 1791, died Sept. 1, 1863. Married, first, Charles Lyons, of Mendham, N. J., second, David Felmley, of New Germantown, N. J.
- 60 DAVID RULOFFSON, son of (16). Married Elizabeth Frone. Children: Isaac and Philip.
- 61 JOHN RULOFFSON, son of (16). Unmarried.
- 62 ELIZABETH RULOFFSON, daughter of (16). No date of birth or death. Married, first, William Trimmer; second, David Neighbor.
- 63 SARAH RULOFFSON, daughter of (16). Married Isaac R. Srope, of Baptistown, N. J.
- 64 MARY RULOFFSON, daughter of (16). Married Peter Stryker.
- 65 PHILIP RULOFFSON, son of (16). Killed by accident when young.
- 66 CORNELIUS RULOFFSON, son of (22).
- 67 NATHANIEL RULOFFSON, son of (22).
- 68 MARY RULOFFSON, daughter of (22).
- 69 HENRY RULOFFSON, son of (22).
- 70 JEMIMA RULOFFSON, daughter of (22).
- 71 JULIA RULOFFSON, daughter of (22).
- 72 SARAH RULOFFSON, daughter of (22).
- 73 JOEL RULOFFSON, son of (22).
- 74 JOHN RULOFFSON, son of (22).

- 10 83 MAHALA RULOFFSON, daughter of (22).
- 1 84 HERMANUS (HARMON) RULIFSON, son of (26), born in Middlesex county, New Jersey, about 1767. He went with his father's family to Montgomery county, New York, prior to 1790, where he married
- 85 Margaret Forncrook, daughter Christopher Forncrook, a soldier in the revolutionary war. She was born in 1790 and married in 1806. Hermanus was a farmer, his farm adjoining that of his father, near Mill Point, Montgomery county, N. Y. He was killed in 1833 by the overturning of a load of grain he was hauling at night. His widow married Matthias Steen. She died Jan. 14, 1865. Hermanus' children were: Abram, Hannah, Catharine, Ann Eliza, Christopher, Elsie Jane, Ralph, Philip, Margaret, Martha, Helen, and Henry Harmon.

- 166 HIRAM MILLS RULISON, son of (47) by second wife, was born at or near Theresa, Jefferson county, N. Y., April 5, 1822. He attended the village school at Theresa, and later the academy at Evans Mills, in the same county. While still a boy he acted as assistant to Vincent de Chaumont, son of Le Ray de Chaumont, in surveying lands of Le Ray de Chaumont's estate. (See Nelson J. Rulison, number 150). When a young man he embarked on a sailing vessel, and among the places he visited was the Hawaii Islands. He was swept off the deck of the vessel in a tornado in the West Indies, but was rescued from a watery grave, and finally reached New Orleans and thence made safe passage to New York City, where he became associated with Elmer E. Barclay in publishing books which were sold by traveling agents. He established in 1848 The Queen City Publishing House in Cincinnati, Ohio, and married Oct. 25, 1848,
- 167 Sarah Elizabeth Barclay, sister of Elmer E. Barclay of New York City. She was born in 1831. The Civil War ruined his business, and he studied medicine and was graduated from the Eclectic Medical Institute at Cincinnati, Ohio, May 21, 1862. He practised medicine the remainder of his life. In 1868 he purchased a part of the dower estate of the widow of Gen. William Henry Harrison, at North Bend, Ohio, fifteen miles west of Cincinnati, Ohio, and erected a home. In 1882 he pre-empted government land in Florida, nine miles from Yalaha, on Lake Harris, and here he lived nine years, when he returned to his former home at North Bend, Ohio. He died Dec. 23, 1901. The following biographical sketch was contributed to this record by his daughter, Mrs. Pauline Archer: "Hiram Mills Rulison was eminently philanthropic. He was eager to assist, uplift, and educate the younger members of the Rulison family. He educated no less than five nephews, and gave one niece a musical education. His beneficent aid was not confined to members of the family, but was extended to the poor and needy and unfortunate wherever found. Many of these grew to useful manhood and womanhood as the result of his assistance and encouragement—the brightest jewel of his crown. He was for many years superintendent of Methodist Sunday schools in Cincinnati and its suburbs. He was among the first to introduce instrumental music in the churches of Cincinnati, in opposition to many of the older church members, who deemed it sacrilegious. His wife was an accomplished musician. In 1898, upon the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage, she sang selections from classic operas, accompanying herself upon the piano, to the great delight of her children and grandchildren and others present. In her seventy-eighth year she could recite wholly from memory Tennyson's 'Lady Clare,' 'Abou Ben Adhem,' and many other classics." She died Feb. 14, 1918. Their children were: Pauline, Hiram Mills, Elmer Erastus, Sarah Elizabeth, Winfield Scott, and Florence.

The following biographical sketch was contributed to this record by Rev. E. J. Ruliffson of Deansboro, N. Y.: "Albert Gleason Ruliffson was born on the farm of his grandfather, Harmon Ruliffson (see 37), in South Gilboa, N. Y. His early years were spent on the farm. In 1854 he was graduated from the New York State Normal School, at Albany, N. Y. Following his graduation he was principal of schools at Fremont, N. Y., for five years. He was an elder of the Presbyterian church at that place, and was induced by its pastor to enter the ministry. He was graduated from the Union Theological Seminary, New York City, in 1862, and was ordained by the Fourth Presbytery of that city. During a part of his seminary life, and for a year afterward, he was in charge of the Brick Chapel Mission. For a short time he served in the Christian Commission as army chaplain in the Civil War. He was appointed by the Home Mission Board in New York as district secretary of Home Missions for the Synod of Minnesota, and continued in this position until 1870, with residence at St. Paul and Minneapolis. He traveled over the state, strengthening weak churches, organizing new ones, building churches for worship, doing evangelistic work in new settlements, and securing ministers for new fields and vacant churches. Going to Chicago, Ill., he was for a year Western Secretary to raise a five million Reunion Memorial Fund, as directed by the General Assembly. Returning to New York City, he founded and was superintendent of Bethany Institute for women's christian work. He continued in this work for nearly twenty-one years, and aided in preparing more than three hundred workers for city, home, and foreign missions. He was also founder and president of the Bowery Mission and Home for Young Men. This Mission has become one of the most important in New York City. A memorial tablet has been placed in the Bowery Mission, which bears these words—"If any man serve Me, him will My Father honor." The Chicago Tribune of Nov. 25, 1912, contained the following notice of the Bowery Mission in New York City: "New York, Nov. 24, 1912.—A week's celebration of thirty-three years in helping 'down and outers' to the 'up and in' ranks was begun by Bowery Mission at its little Brick Chapel to-day with song, prayer, anniversary sermon, reminiscences, and feasting. The occasion marks the reopening this week of the winter bread-line at which a thousand cold and empty are warmed and filled every midnight with hot coffee and rolls. The brotherhood of the Mission now numbers about 30,000 men. The Free Labor Bureau during the last five years has sent to permanent positions more than 17,000 men." Mrs. Ruliffson, when quite young, taught a private school in Utica, N. Y., where she was born. She went to N. Y. City to do mission work. Here she married her husband. After his death she returned to Utica where she lived ten years, then returned to N. Y. City, lived there ten years in the Presbyterian Home, then returned to Utica, N. Y., where she died.

- 307 Rosa Harris, in the Presbyterian church at Stamford, Delaware county, N. Y., Dec. 22, 1869. He died at Stamford, N. Y., in 1891. A sketch of his life which appeared in a Stamford newspaper at the time of his death is as follows: "At an early age he left his father's farm and became a clerk in a dry-goods store at Stamford, N. Y. President Garfield appointed him postmaster for Stamford. A Democratic president deposed him. He then engaged in the mercantile business at Stamford, but went out of it in 1888. He was one of the trustees of the village of Stamford, and in 1887 was elected its president. He had been chief of the village fire department, and also superintendent of the water company. He was a public-spirited and liberal-minded citizen. In 1889 he was elected Justice of the Peace, and was an efficient officer. Upon the return to power of the Republican party he was appointed postal clerk on the Ulster and Delaware railroad, which position he held at the time of his death. He was a member of St. Andrews Masonic Lodge at Stamford, N. Y., of the Stamford Chapter, and of the Rondout Commandery. Ninety-four members of the Masonic fraternity were in procession to his grave, where the services were solemn and impressive. At the age of forty-six years, in vigorous manhood, he joined the silent majority. His was a brave and manly life. He was a kind father, a loving husband, and a loyal son and brother." His one child was Lillian M. ^(a daughter) His widow married William Mueller, of Brooklyn, N. Y., where she was living in 1918.

2 383 DUANE RULISON, son of (145), born at Evans Mills, N. Y., June 24, 1829. He was reared on his father's farm near Evans Mills, N. Y., until 1850, when for a - short time he worked on a farm for Alvin Clark, not far from Evans Mills. He then went to Cincinnati, Ohio, and worked in the publishing house of his uncle, Hiram Mills Rulison, part of the time as salesman on the road. He established for his uncle branch houses at Milwaukee, Wis., St. Louis, Mo., and Philadelphia, Pa. He purchased from his uncle the branch house at Philadelphia, Pa., and went into business for himself, naming his business the Quaker City Publishing House, selling also the publications of other houses in New York and Boston. He married

- 384 Deborah A. Jordan at Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 30, 1855. She was born Dec. 3, 1829. The Civil war ruined his business with Southern customers and he opened a retail book store on Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, and continued in the business until he died, Jan. 14, 1882. His children were: Fanny Elva, Ella Minnie, and Wilbur E. Duane Rulison was member of the Wesley Methodist church in Philadelphia.
- 3 385 ADDA ANN RULISON, daughter of (145), born on her father's farm near Evans Mills, N. Y., Sept. 4, 1831. She lived at home on the farm until 1870, when the farm was sold and her father moved to Evans Mills where they lived until he died in 1872. She then went to live with her aunt Cynthia Fisk, at Chateaugay, N. Y., and with her aunt Margaret Burhans at Pulaski, N. Y. She died, unmarried, at the home of her brother, Wesley Rulison, at Evans Mills, N. Y., March 29, 1878, and was buried in the family lot in the cemetery near Evans Mills. She was a member of the Presbyterian church at Evans Mills, a singer in the church choir, and organist of church music.
- 4 386 GEORGE RULISON, son of (145), born on his father's farm near Evans Mills, N. Y., March 7, 1834. He worked on the farm, and attended the academy at Evans Mills and the academy at Carthage, N. Y. In 1856 he went to Wisconsin and taught country schools near Janesville and Fond du Lac, Wis. He then went to Minnesota and acquired a government homestead farm. Disposing of this farm he went to Colorado and prospected for gold. In the fall of 1862 he returned to Wisconsin and married

- 387 Julia A. Sanderson, a farmer's daughter, who lived near Fond du Lac, Wis. She had been a pupil of his when he taught the country school near her home several years before. They were married Jan. 1, 1863. She was born Feb. 27, 1835. Shortly after his marriage he moved to Hancock, Mich., and entered the service of the Quincy Copper Mining Company, first as a miner, then as a foreman, and then as warden of the company's hospital. Afterward he was appointed principal of the company's schools at the Quincy mine, which position he held for ten years. He then purchased a tract of timber-land, cut the timber into cordwood which he sold to the mining company. Subsequently he became secretary of a lumber company at Hancock, Mich., and stockholder in several copper mining companies. His wife died Feb. 14, 1876, leaving three children: Hattie E., Gertrude Addie, and Maude Mae. Jan. 31, 1877, he
- 388 married Sarah Butler, of Fond du Lac, Wis. She was born Oct. 8, 1837. He died suddenly at his home in Hancock, Mich., Aug. 24, 1903. He was a member of the Congregational church at Hancock, Mich. He was a 32d degree Mason, and held the office of secretary of the Masonic Lodge at Hancock continuously for forty years, and was repeatedly a delegate of the Hancock Lodges to the national Masonic conventions. He was a member of the city council of Hancock, Mich., and was twice elected to the Michigan State Legislature.

5 389 HENRY FLAGLER RULISON, son of (145), born on his father's farm near Evans Mills, N. Y., July 25, 1840. He worked on the farm summers and attended the district common school winters. During the winter months of 1852-1853 he lived with his uncle James Madison Burhans, on the Burhans homestead farm near Evans Mills, and attended the village school. During the winter months of 1854-1855 he attended the academy at Evans Mills, and again in 1855-1856. In the fall of 1856 and the following winter he attended the Jefferson County Institute, a college preparatory school, at Watertown, N. Y. In the spring of 1857 he went to Philadelphia, Pa., to live with his brother, Duane Rulison, who was a publisher and bookseller. Here he worked a part of the time, and attended the Wagner Institute, studying the sciences. In the spring of 1858 he returned to his home and attended the academy at Evans Mills. In the spring of 1856 he was seriously injured by a fall, and permanently disabled from doing farm work. It was on account of this injury that he was sent to school at Watertown and Philadelphia. During the fall and winter of 1859-1860 he taught a country school near his home, at $16.00 per month and "boarded around." During the spring and summer of 1860 he again attended the Jefferson County Institute at Watertown, N. Y., and in the fall taught a "Select School" at Black River, Jefferson county, N. Y. During the winter months of 1860-1861 he taught the village school at Black River, N. Y., at $30.00 per month,

390 and paid $1.75 per week for board and room. January 16, 1861, he married Mercy Amelia Bentley, daughter of Barnabas L. Bentley, who lived near Evans Mills, N. Y. He went to Wisconsin in the fall of 1861—October—leaving his wife with her parents. He visited her uncle, who was a farmer and the postmaster at Woodland, Dodge county, Wis. Nov. 4, 1861, he was employed to teach the village school at Hartford, Washington county, Wis. His wife and her parents joined him at Woodland in December, 1861. He taught the Hartford school during the winter and spring of 1862. The Civil war was at this time in progress, but upon a surgeon's certificate of disability he was exempted from service, Sept. 30, 1862. He taught country schools in the neighborhood of Oak Grove, Dodge county, Wis. While thus teaching he was drafted into the U. S. army, but was exempted from service. In the spring of 1864 he went to Janesville, Wis., and studied medicine in the office of Dr. Homer Adams. During the fall and winter months of 1864 and 1865 he taught a country school on Sugar Creek prairie, five miles northwest of Elkhorn, Walworth county, Wis., continuing his medical studies at Janesville, Wis., during the summer months. In October, 1866, he matriculated at Rush Medical College, Chicago, Ill. In 1867 he was elected principal of the graded schools at Pecatonica, Winnebago county, Ill., which position he filled for two years. In 1869 he was elected principal of the graded schools at Durand, Winnebago county, Ill. Here he organized a High School department, and was its principal and superintendent of the graded schools for five years, when he resigned and engaged in the drug business at Durand. In the spring of 1876 he moved to Orchard, Mitchell county, Iowa, and thereafter to Bradford, Chickasaw county, Iowa, at which places he practised medicine. In the fall of 1879 he was again elected principal of the Durand, Ill., high school, and taught there two years more. In 1880 he was granted a diploma by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, which was of perpetual validity, authorizing him to teach in any public school in the State of Illinois. In 1881 he was elected superintendent of the city schools of Watseka, Iroquois county, Ill. Here he taught for ten years, and here he organized and established a city high school, which was accredited to the University of Illinois. While teaching he was authorized by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction to organize and conduct State Teachers' Institutes in Illinois during the summer months. He was a member of the Illinois State Teachers' Association, the Illinois State Principals' Association, the National Teachers' Association, and one of the organizers of the School Masters' Club of Illinois. He was made a Master Mason by the Masonic Lodge at Watseka, Ill., and was its secretary for two years. He resigned his position in the Watseka schools in 1892 and moved with his family to Chicago, Ill. In the spring of 1893 he entered the publishing house of S. C. Griggs and Company, as editor-in-chief of their college and university textbooks and other publications. This position he filled for nearly four years, when Mr. Griggs died, which terminated the business. He did editorial work on five volumes of the "Encyclopedia Britannica," an American edition published in Chicago. In 1897 he became editor of the "Weeks Current," an educational journal published in Chicago. In 1900 he entered the service of the International Harvester Company of America in Chicago, in charge of its "Information Bureau" and Mails, and in 1907 was transferred to its Purchasing Department, from which he retired Nov. 1, 1916.

While engaged in high school work he wrote and published a text-book on English Grammar entitled "The Science of the Sentence," for high school work, and a work entitled "The Science and Art of Teaching," for teachers and teachers' institutes. He wrote, also, many articles and papers upon scientific and educational subjects for magazines and other periodicals, among which were, "How We Think"; the "Mechanism of Sympathy," which was translated into the Japanese language at the University of Tokio, Japan, and published in a Japanese magazine; "The Mechanism of Perception," "The Mechanism of Harmony," a work on "Sound and Musical Tones and Overtures," based upon laboratory investigation and experiment. In 1910 he wrote a work, in blank verse, entitled the "Myth of Pallas Athena," the Greek goddess of the air, of life, and of wisdom. The subjects of chief interest to him were Physics, Biology, Electricity, and Psychology. In 1917 he completed a large volume entitled the "Conspectus of Science, Philosophy, and Religion," and in 1918 a work entitled "Studies in Grecian, Roman, Norse, and German Mythology," a work entitled "Studies in Physical Geography," and a work entitled "Energy, its Nature and Forms of Manifestation in the Creation of a Universe of World Systems." For ten years he collected data and compiled a volume of the Genealogies of the Rulison Families and Families Allied by Marriage, which was completed in 1918.

His wife, Mercy Amelia Rulison, died Aug. 20, 1910. Their children were: Etta Amelia, Henry Marvin, Rea DeWitt, Stanley Flagler, Milton Henry, and Grace Ines. The following account of Mercy Amelia Bentley was written by her husband, Henry Flagler Rulison: "She was born on her father's farm near Evans Mills, N. Y., March 7, 1844. She attended the common district school near her home, and later a private select school at Evans Mills. Her father was for many years choir leader of the Methodist church at Evans Mills, and his home was the common meeting place for choir rehearsals. Living thus in an environment of music she became a sweet singer when quite young. Later, her vocal powers were cultivated under the training of teachers of vocal music at Watertown, N. Y., and she sang in the largest church choirs in that city, and at church concerts. She married Henry Flagler Rulison at her parents' home near Evans Mills, N. Y., Jan. 16, 1861. She and her husband went to Wisconsin in the fall of 1861. (For an account of their lives, vocations, and vicissitudes of fortune, see the account of her husband (389) in this volume). In all the years of their married lives, nearly fifty years, she was her husband's companion, comrade, and coworker, sharing his labors and trials with a true wife's devotion. She was of sterling character, conscientious, honest, truthful, steadfast, and a most devoted mother. Her attitude toward all was the embodiment of brotherly love, and rectitude in thought and deed. She viewed the faults and frailties of others with christian charity. She was not socially ambitious and had but little personal vanity. She was eminently domestic, her chief interests being in her home and in the care and culture of her children. She greatly enjoyed the companionship of young people, who loved her, trusted her, and confided in her as if she were their own mother. Her quiet, gentle, amiable, and sympathetic nature, and her generous and sincere hospitalities endeared her to her many acquaintances, who, as many said, counted it an honor to be known as one of her friends. Though not ostensibly professing religion, she nevertheless was religious in mind and heart, believing in, and honoring in her life the christian virtues, and dying in a well founded assurance of an immortal life beyond the grave.

She made her home homelike and beautiful, decorating it with artistic judgment without ostentation. She had a passion for the care and culture of plants and flowers, the most beautiful of nature's gifts to man. These she invested with the attributes of personality, loving them as she felt they loved her, caressing them and caring for them with maternal solicitude. They were the chief embellishments of her home beautiful.

She had been in poor health for several years preceding her death, with an ailment which caused her at times much suffering, and from which there was no permanent relief. She died Aug. 20, 1910, and was buried in the family lot in Graceland Cemetery, Chicago, Aug. 22, 1910, by the side of her daughter, Grace Ines, who died seven years before. Around her tomb roses and lilies blend their fragrance. Her husband and sons approach her grave and greet her with 'Ave, mother,' and upon departing with 'Vale, mother.' "

391 WESLEY RULISON, son of (145), born on his father's farm near Evans Mills, N. Y., Aug. 27, 1842. He

- lived on this farm until about 1864. He married 392 Martha Ray, daughter of Hiram Ray. She was cousin of Mercy Amelia Bentley Rulison (390), born at Evans Mills, N. Y., in 1838—died at Evans Mills
May 18, 1909. About 1864 he went to live at Evans Mills, where he engaged in the drug and mercantile business. He became the owner of the building in which his father kept a hotel when Joseph Bonaparte was a guest in 1827. In this building he was conducting his business at the time of his death. He was appointed postmaster at Evans Mills in October, 1874, during the second administration of President
Grant, and held the office continuously to the time of his death, except during the two Cleveland administrations, from 1885 to 1889, and from 1893 to 1897.
Friday evening, April 3, 1914, at 9 o'clock, he closed his store and postoffice and went to his home, where he was taken suddenly ill and died within 15 minutes, and before a doctor could arrive. He was successful in business and acquired a large property. He was well known in Masonic circles, having received the 32d degree. He was a member of Watertown, N. Y., Commandery, K. T., and of the Medinah Temple,
A. A. O. N. M. S. His children were: Frank and Anna Rhoda. Interment in the cemetery near Evans Mills, N. Y.
- 7 393 MARCUS RULISON, son of (145), born on his father's farm near Evans Mills, N. Y., Sept. 20, 1847. He lived on this farm until about 1864 when he went to live with his uncle Putnam Fisk, at Chateaugay, N. Y., who was engaged in the drug business. He 394 married Wealthy Butler, at Carthage, N. Y. In 1869 he went with his wife to Durand, Ill., and taught a country school near that place. His wife taught in the graded schools at Durand, Ill. Afterward he was a salesman for a carriage house in Milwaukee, Wis. About 1872 he and his wife returned to New York State. He died at the home of his brother, Wesley Rulison, at Evans Mills, N. Y., Nov. 29, 1874, and was buried in the cemetery near that place. No further record of his wife. There were no children.

- / 395 JOSEPH PARKER BROWNELL, son of (147), born near Theresa, Jefferson county, N. Y.—no date of birth given. With his mother's family he went to live at Carthage, N. Y., and was employed in the land office of Patrick Stewart, who was land agent for the estate of Le Ray de Chaumont of France. His uncle, Nelson J. Rulison, was civil engineer in this office, and he was his uncle's assistant. Upon the death of his uncle in 1876 he became the official surveyor of this office, and continued such until he died at Carthage, N. Y.,
- 395A Dec. 25, 1894. He married Parthena Sophia Caswell, who died at Carthage, N. Y., Sept. 1, 1905. His children were: Mary Eliza, Hiram Markham, James Parker, and Charles Melville.
- 2 396 MARY ELIZA BROWNELL, daughter of (147), born in Jefferson county, N. Y.—no date of birth given. She lived at Carthage, N. Y., where she engaged in the business of millinery and dressmaking. She was a person of refinement, of pleasing manners, and was beloved by all who knew her. She died at Carthage, N. Y., about 1901, unmarried.
- 3 397 MELVILLE BROWNELL, son of (147). No record given of his birth. He lived at Carthage, N. Y., with his mother. He attended the village school and the Carthage Academy, and was afterward employed in the marble works of his uncle, Herman Rulison, at Carthage. He died at Carthage, N. Y., about 1876.

- 7 398 ANN JANE RULISON, daughter of (150), born in Jefferson county, N. Y., Nov. 7, 1834. One record states she was born near Theresa, Jefferson county, N. Y. She lived with her parents at Carthage, N. Y. She was a member of the Methodist church at Carthage, and was an active church and Sunday school worker, and greatly beloved by the young people of Carthage and vicinity. When somewhat advanced in years she
- 399 married Reuben H. Potter, a well-to-do farmer near Carthage, who died not long afterward. She died at the home of her brother, Hiram Alexander Rulison, at Carthage, N. Y., March 1, 1904. No children.
- 2 400 WILLIAM RULISON, son of (150), born at Carthage, N. Y., Feb. 19, 1838. He was employed in the land-office of Patrick Stewart at Carthage, who was agent for the landed estate of Le Ray de Chaumont, in which office his father was the official surveyor. Shortly before the Civil war began in 1861 he married
- 401 Mary Johnson, whose father lived in the town of Alexandria, Jefferson county, N. Y. He was among the first to enlist in a company which was formed at Carthage, served in the Civil war as lieutenant and captain, and was engaged in the three-days battle of the Wilderness under Gen. U. S. Grant. It is stated that he went into this battle as captain of a full company, and came out of it with ten men unhurt, the remainder being killed or disabled—he himself received no injury. After the war he lived for a time at Ilion, Herkimer county, N. Y., and then went to Cincinnati, Ohio, where he engaged in the business of a broker. One account states that he purchased a farm in Nebraska, disposed of it and returned to Cincinnati. Another account states that he spent the last years of his life in Kentucky, and died there in 1902. He and his wife, Mary Johnson, were divorced before he went to Cincinnati. She again married R. C. Collis, and in 1909 lived at Canastota, N. Y. William Rulison's second wife was 402 Katherine E. Hazelwood, who in 1909 lived at Eddysville, Ky. One child, Nellie, by his first wife.

3 403 NELSON SOMERVILLE RULISON, son of (150), born at Carthage, N. Y., April 24, 1842. He attended the academy at Carthage, and a college preparatory school (Methodist) at Gouverneur, N. Y. He entered an Episcopal Theological Seminary in New York City, and was graduated in 1866, shortly before his marriage. He married Georgiana Blandina Rice, daughter of Amos Rice and his wife Loretta Susan Andrews, of Lowville, N. Y., July 3, 1866. She was born July 4, 1841. Nelson Somerville Rulison was ordained deacon in Grace church at Utica, N. Y., in 1866; was ordained priest in New York City in 1866; was assistant minister in the Church of Annunciation in New York City, and rector of Zion church at Morris, N. Y., in 1867. He founded St. John's Free church at Jersey City, N. J., and was its head for seven years. He was rector of St. Paul's church at Cleveland, Ohio, in 1876, and officiated eight years. The degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon him by Kenyon College, Ohio, in 1879. He was Assistant Bishop of the diocese of Central Pennsylvania in 1884, and Bishop (the 136th in America) of the Episcopal Church in America, and lived at South Bethlehem, Pa. He died at Mannheim, Germany, Sept. 1, 1897, of heart disease, while on a visit to Europe. His wife died at Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 25, 1879. Their children were: Helen Douglas, Blanche Stanley, Edith Somerville, and Lucy Constance.

From "The Living Church," an Episcopal Church organ, is taken the following reference to Bishop Nelson Somerville Rulison: "Bishop Whitehead preached in South Bethlehem Church of the Nativity, on Sunday morning, Sept. 19, 1897, a sermon commemorative of the late Bishop Rulison. He said in part: 'He was a preacher honored among our best, and an advocate for onward advance which few, if any, could surpass. His influence and power was pre-eminent among our leaders. His impassioned and overwhelming appeal in behalf of Alaska, made with the utmost rapidity of utterance, and with clear, ringing voice, at the last General Convention, will long live as an example of almost unequalled eloquence in the history of the American church. How genial and courteous his manner, how attractive his personality, how chivalrous through long seasons of trial! When he spoke, men listened. I have not told the story of our bishop's life—of his high intelligence, his erudition and culture, his many graces of mind and speech, his high executive ability, his vigorous administration of affairs.'" At a meeting of the vestry of St. Luke's church, Lebanon, Pa., the following resolution was adopted: "Resolved, That in the untimely death of the Rt. Rev. Nelson Somerville Rulison, D. D., the Church has lost one of the most devout and eminent of her bishops, a zealous worker, a man of high intellectual attainment, one whose wide sympathy with the varied phases of modern thought combined to make him universally esteemed by his contemporaries. May the Great Bishop and Shepherd grant him a high reward."

4 405 DEVENE RULISON, son of (150), born at Carthage, N. Y., 406 March 25, 1844. He married Ella Easton, of Lowville, N. Y., July 13, 1865. He was employed in the County Clerk's Office at Watertown, N. Y., for many years. He died at Watertown May 26, 1891. Three children were born to them, all of whom in 1909 were dead. His wife was living at Watertown, N. Y., in 1909.

- 5 407 HIRAM ALEXANDER RULISON, son of (150), born at Carthage, N. Y., May 25, 1846. He was a veteran of the Civil war, having served in the 186th Regiment of New York Volunteers. He married
- 408 Pamelia Nutting, Aug. 23, 1868. He died at Carthage, N. Y., Oct. 31, 1917, where he had lived all his life. His wife was living at Carthage in 1918. Their children were: Charles, May, and Harriet (Hattie).
- 409 NELSON J. RULISON, son of (152), born near Theresa, Jefferson county, N. Y., Nov. 6, 1827. He was called by the Rulisons "Little Nelson," to distinguish him from his uncle, Nelson J. Rulison (150). When he was seven years old his father died, and at the age of ten years he began working for himself, being employed on a farm in Schoharie county, N. Y., until he was about fourteen years old. He then returned to Jefferson county, N. Y., and was an assistant to his uncle Nelson J. Rulison, who was a land surveyor, for two years. In 1843 he attended the academy at Gouverneur, N. Y., and taught a winter school in St. Lawrence county, N. Y. In 1844 he went to Montgomery county, N. Y., and worked on a farm and on the Erie canal. In 1850 he taught school at Port Jackson, Montgomery county, N. Y. In 1851 and 1852 he was captain of canal boats on the Erie canal. In the fall of 1852 he went to Cincinnati, Ohio, to work for his uncle, Hiram Mills Rulison

410 (166), and the following winter attended a commercial college in Cincinnati, canvassing for books and periodicals during his spare time. In Feb., 1853, he went to St. Louis, Mo., and established a book agency for his Uncle Hiram Mills. June 23, 1853, he married at St. Louis, Mo., Margaret Fleming. She was born of Flemish ancestors near the city of Waterford, Ireland, May 2, 1837, and when a young girl came to America in one of her uncle's sailing vessels and located at St. Louis. After his marriage he established a general book agency in Chicago, Ill., remaining there but a short time. In Aug., 1853, he became captain of a canal boat, the main line running between Chicago and St. Louis, which occupation he followed for five years. In 1859 he was appointed general freight agent for the Union Line at La Salle, Ill. In the fall of 1860 he purchased an interest in a canal boat, and again went on the canal, remaining there until 1867. He then bought a canal steam-boat (at the same time owning large interests in boats), and was the first to introduce the system of barge-boating. His financial resources now rapidly increased. In 1868 he went to Ottawa, Ill., where he resided until 1873, when he went to Seneca, Ill., and engaged in the grain business. He conducted a grain business at Henry, Ill., and established a flourishing grain trade. He ran a fleet of boats from Ottawa and from Seneca to Chicago on the Illinois and Michigan canal, and was one of the heaviest grain dealers in the West. In 1887 he erected a bank building at Seneca, Ill., and conducted a private bank until 1892. He was for five years a member of the Chicago Board of Trade. He held many offices of trust at Seneca, Ill., both on the board of education and the village board, serving as president two years. He died at his home in Seneca, Ill., October 4, 1896, leaving a very large estate. His wife died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. James J. Conway, at Ottawa, Ill., Jan. 24, 1916. Their children were: Ada C., Alida, and Edna D. Nelson J. Rulison was a close student of human nature. Broad minded himself, he had charity for the short-comings of others, but despised hypocrisy and frivolity as much as he admired and rewarded honesty and integrity. He was a shrewd and systematic business man, and was always willing to assist any whom he found trying to help himself. He was eminently a home man, a great reader, and a deep and liberal thinker. He and his wife were buried in the cemetery near Ottawa, Ill. (The foregoing sketch of Nelson J. Rulison was from the Ottawa and Chicago newspapers, and from the History of LaSalle county, Ill.)

495 Josephine Morrison, born near Parish, N. Y., Aug. 12, 1844. "On the 15th of April, 1861, President Lincoln issued a call for 75,000 volunteers to aid in suppression of a Rebellion of the Southern States. Melzar Richards of Parish, Oswego county, N. Y., was given authority to form a company of infantry, and opened a recruiting station at Parish the 17th of April, 1861, and Lewis D. Rulison was the first man to enlist in Company D. So rapidly did men enlist that on May 17th, 1861, a regiment was mustered in. He enlisted for two years, and was mustered out of the 24th Regiment at Elmira, N. Y., in May, 1863. He then re-enlisted in the 24th Cavalry and served until the close of the war. He was given a sergeant's warrant by the captain of the company for brave and meritorious service in action on Aug. 29th and 30th, in the second Bull Run battle. He was given an honorary lieutenant's commission by the Governor of New York State (Fenton), in accordance with a resolution by the Legislature authorizing the Governor to give such commission to one in each town in the state who had the best army record. He was a Republican of the unconditional kind, and a member of Post Simons, G. A. R., No. 599. The 24th Infantry regiment belonged to the famous 'Iron Brigade.'" Lewis D. Rulison died at the home of his daughter, Marion Lindsay, in Schenectady, N. Y., Aug. 26, 1916. Children: Walter, Edith J., Marion M., and Lillian J. (The above war record was contributed by Mrs. Marion Lindsay, his daughter.)

503 BENJAMIN RULISON, son of (179), born at Petries Corners, N. Y., Jan. 11, 1832—died at Utica, N. Y., in 1861—unmarried.

504 CHARLES HENRY RULISON, son of (179), born at Parish, Oswego county, N. Y., Dec. 22, 1835. He moved with his father's family from Parish to Mohawk, N. Y., in 1840. When ten years old he began to work for his father, who was a carpenter, and when sixteen years of age he had the trade learned. He went to Galena, Ill., Oct. 2, 1854, where he lived six months, thence to Franklin Grove, Ill., where he lived six months, and thence to Huntley Grove, Ill., 55 miles northwest of Chicago, where he settled and married 505 Ellen Mullen, Dec. 5, 1858. Three children were born to them at Huntley Grove, Ill. May 9, 1863, he and his family, with a party of neighbors, started to cross the plains to Nevada. They traveled with horse teams and stock as far as Salt Lake City. The Indians were troublesome all the way on the plains, and stampeded the stock several times. From Salt Lake City they traveled by stage to Virginia City, Nevada, a distance of 600 miles, and were on the road five days and five nights. There were four soldiers on the stage nearly the whole distance. He rode 400 miles of the distance with a revolver in his hand for instant use. Along the road were stations about 12 miles apart, guarded by soldiers, where stage horses were changed. His party passed station after station that the Indians had burned, murdered the station keepers and soldiers, and killed the horses. The Indians had thrown the dead bodies of the keepers and soldiers into the burning stations, some of which were smoking as the party came up to them. No one of the party expected to get through alive; they never closed their eyes in sleep until they came in sight of Virginia City. He and his family settled at Silver City, Nevada, where they lived a few years, and then moved to Dayton, Nevada—living at these places about twenty-five years. He then moved to Reno, Nevada in 1885, purchased two blocks of land in the city, and built himself a permanent home, where he was living in 1918. After his arrival in Nevada he worked at pattern making in a foundry for six years, and then engaged in milling and mill building until he moved to Reno, when he retired from active business. He claimed that his father, Martin Rulison (179), and his father's brothers, changed the family name from Ruloffson to Rulison, which simplified spelling has been adopted by all the descendants of Lawrence Ruloffson (10). He was a drug clerk in Chicago, where he went with his parents to live in 1892. Afterward he learned the printer's trade, and in 1918 was employed in the printing department of A. C. McClurg and Company, book publishers in Chicago. Unmarried in 1918.

- 790 INES GRACE RULISON, daughter of (389), born at Greenwood, near Nashua, Iowa, Sept. 23, 1879. When three months old she went with her parents' family to Durand, Ill., where she lived two years. In the fall of 1881 she went with her parents to Watseka, Ill., and in 1886 began to attend the public schools. In 1891, under the guidance of a private teacher, she began the study of music, in lessons upon the piano. In the fall of 1892 she went with the family to Chicago to live, and there attended the Nettelhorst and Hawthorne public schools, the while continuing her studies in piano music. While attending these schools she became afflicted with chorea in a most distressing form, and was withdrawn from the public schools, but still continued some of her school studies under the instruction of her father. In 1894 her health being in a measure restored, she discontinued her school studies in order to devote more time to music. In 1896 and 1897 she studied and practised orchestral music under the guidance of a member of the Thomas Orchestra of Chicago. She decided to make music her profession, and bent all her energies to that end. In 1897 she put out her sign as a teacher of piano music, and soon had pupils. She became a member of an orchestra, consisting of violins, cellos, clarinets, horns, and piano. In 1898 and 1899 her position as a teacher was well established, and her services were in demand for entertainments, in private houses, and public halls.

But alas! her aspirations and hopes, the promises of a brilliant musical career, with its pleasures and emoluments, were soon to be blighted. Early in 1901 her health began to decline. The physician said it was overwork—nervous prostration. April 10, 1902, she gave her last lesson. In January, 1903, her spinal cord became affected, and a slow paralysis, beginning in her feet and gradually ascending, culminated in a total paralysis of her whole body. She died Sept. 13, 1903, lacking but ten days of being twenty-four years of age. She was buried in Graceland cemetery, Chicago.

Ines Grace Rulison was the "soul of music". As a bird, wrote John Ruskin, is the incarnation of the soul of air, so was she the incarnation of the soul of melody and harmony. With her, music was a passion. Her heart thrilled in sympathy with the chords of harmony and melody which her skilled nerves unfolded. The beauty and pleasure of her playing was the soul in it—her soul—that felt and interpreted the sentiments of a composition.

(After her death her father wrote an extended biography of her life, and the above sketch is but a few lines taken from this biography. They do not touch upon the graces of her mind and heart, nor the sweetness and purity of her life, nor can they adequately express his sorrow for her untimely death and his undying love for a most beloved daughter, whose frail body was not equal to accomplish the full aspirations of her soul of music.)

PARTIAL RECORD OF ROELOFSON AND ALLIED FAMILIES

In 1750 there were many Rulison families living in New Jersey, some of which spelt the name Ruloffson and some Roelofson. The Ruloffsons were of the Denmark branch of the family, while the Roelofsons were of the Holland branch. The first of the Danish branch to arrive in New Jersey was Laurens Ruloffson (see No. 1) and his second son was named Roelof Ruloffson (see No. 4), the baptismal name Roelof being the Dutch way of spelling Ruloff. The oldest of Roelof Ruloffson's sons was named Lawrence (see No. 10) and one of Lawrence's brothers was named Christian (see No. 13). Lawrence married and settled in Hunterdon county, New Jersey, but it is thought, though not certainly known, that Christian went to Pennsylvania and lived for a short time among the Dutch Roelofsons, and was known among them as Christian Roelofson. He named his oldest son Lawrence. Now the name Lawrence is a very common name in the Danish branch of the family, but not in the Dutch branch. Family descent is often traced by the recurrence of the same baptismal name from generation to generation in the same branch of the family. In 1800 there lived in Henderson county, Kentucky, a family by the name of Roelofson, and in the following account of this family it is inferred that its head was Christian Ruloffson, son of Roelof Ruloffson, son of Laurens Ruloffson, the first of the Danish branch to arrive in America. Christian Ruloffson was of the Third Generation of Ruloffsons, and so the following record starts under the heading of the Third Generation.

THIRD GENERATION OF ROELOFSONS

- 1655 CHRISTIAN ROELOFSON, supposed son of (4), born probably in New Jersey, about 1750. Assumed to have gone to Henderson county, Kentucky, and settled at 1656 or near Smith Mills. He married Sarah Smith, about 1772. She was born Aug. 31, 1753, and died Aug. 11, 1844. He was probably a pioneer farmer. His children were: Lawrence, William, and seven daughters whose names are not given.

FOURTH GENERATION OF ROELOFSONS

- 1657 LAWRENCE ROELOFSON, son of (1655), born in Henderson county, Ky. in 1773. Married Mary Smith in 1796. She was born May 30, 1779. In 1820—perhaps at a later date—he moved with his family to White county in southern Illinois. He was probably a pioneer farmer. No record at hand of his death. One of his grandchildren wrote the compiler of this record, saying: "He was a sincere, good, earnest, kind, and faithful man, and devoutly religious, but he was not very energetic, ambitious, or accumulative of this world's goods." His wife, while still a young woman, in climbing a fence with a bundle of yarn she was taking to a loom to be woven, fell and broke her right leg just above the ankle. It was amputated by the rude surgery of that day, not once, but three times, and she went through all the years thereafter on crutches, or with the knee of the injured limb on a chair which she shoved along the floor. She died at a great age, at her daughter Naomi's home in Illinois. Children: Sarah, Elizabeth, Moses, Margaret, Naomi, Esther, Tabitha, Ann, Martha L., Mary Jane, William A., and Thomas Smith.

- 1659 WILLIAM ROELOFSON, son of (1655), born in Henderson county, Ky., no birth date given. He went with his brother and the family to White county, Ill. about 1820. He never married, and died at a great age.

FIFTH GENERATION OF ROELOFSONS

- 1660 SARAH ROELOFSON, daughter of (1657), born in Henderson county, Ky., Oct. 23, 1797. Married
- 1661 Mr. Miller. No further record given.
- 1662 ELIZABETH ROELOFSON, daughter of (1657), born in Henderson county, Ky., Feb. 29, 1799—died young.
- 1663 MOSES ROELOFSON, son of (1657), born in Henderson county, Ky., Jan. 5, 1801. Married, no name given. Children: John A.
- 1664 MARGARET ROELOFSON, daughter of (1657), born in Henderson county, Ky., Dec. 19, 1802. Married
- 1665 Mr. Trousdale. No further record given.
- 1666 NAOMI ROELOFSON, daughter of (1657), born in Henderson county, Ky., Sept. 12, 1804. Married
- 1667 Stinson Goudy. She died in 1890, and was buried at Atlanta, Logan county, Ill. Her descendants are widely scattered. Of her eleven or twelve children, but two were living in 1910: Mary and Minnie.
- 1668 ESTHER ROELOFSON, daughter of (1657), born in Henderson county, Ky., Nov. 2, 1806. Married
- 1669 Neill Johnson, Oct. 7, 1828. They lived many years at Tremont, Tazewell county, Ill. Most of her eleven or twelve children were born at Tremont, Ill. Her husband, besides being a preacher, was at one time a Justice of the Peace, and afterward was elected County Judge of Tazewell county, Ill. The family moved to Oregon in 1851. Esther died at McMinnville, Oregon, March 29, 1874. Her husband died at the same place, April 25, 1890. Both were buried, with several of their children, in Bellpassi cemetery, near his first home in Marion county, Oregon. Esther's descendants were very numerous—one of her sons, Joel H. Johnson, said in 1910 that he had counted 140 of them. The names of her children are not given, except Joel H.

1670 TABITHA ROELOFSON, daughter of (1657), born in Henderson county, Ky., Dec. 15, 1808. Married

1671 Cyrus Goudy. They lived in Tazewell county, Ill. She died at Groveland, Tazewell county, Ill., Dec. 18, 1848, and was buried by the side of her daughter Jane, in the Deacon Street graveyard near Groveland, Ill. Of her children there is a record of John F., Martha, and Jane. Her descendants in Oregon, in 1910, covering four generations, numbered eight or ten.

1672 ANN ROELOFSON, daughter of (1657), born in Henderson county, Ky., July 26 (22?), 1811. In 1826 she was living with her parents in White county, Ill. Her sister, Esther (see No. 1668), who married Neill Johnson (see No. 1669) was living at Tremont, Tazewell county, Ill., in 1829. Esther desired Ann to come and live with her, as caretaker and companion, and Ann went and made her home with Esther. Some four miles from Tremont, and one and a half miles southeast of the present village of Groveland, in Tazewell county, Ill., lived a farmer by the name of James Scott. He was one of the first settlers in Groveland township. His ancestors came from Scotland to Charleston, South Carolina, in 1755. At the home of Esther, Ann met a son of James Scott, named

1673 John Tucker Scott. He was a strong, virile, and energetic young man of twenty-one. He married

Ann Roelofson, Oct. 22, 1830. They set up their home in a log cabin on the farm of his father, James Scott. Here they lived for nearly twenty years, and twelve children were born to them, three of whom died before 1852. April 1, 1852, John Tucker Scott with his family, consisting of his wife, Ann Roelofson, and nine children, and several other families, started overland across the "great plains" to go to Oregon, then a territory, with a caravan of ox teams. The journey consumed full six months. When in the Black Hills of Wyoming, then the territory of Nebraska, at a point in the trail about seventy miles north of the present city of Cheyenne, Ann Roelofson Scott died, June 20, 1852. She was sick but a few hours with what was known as "plains cholera." Around her lowly bed on the ground in a shelter tent where she died, were her husband and nine children, the youngest three years and six months old, the oldest nineteen years. Her last words were: "All is well." All was indeed well with her, but for her children, what a calamity! A grave was made for her in the soft sandstone by chiseling out a coffin-shaped vault. She was wrapped in cerements and buried by the side of the trail, in a wilderness far from civilization—without a coffin. The next morning the oxen were yoked up and the caravan again started westward, her husband and children with anguished hearts and fear-some glances backward to the new-made grave. Arriving in Oregon, John Tucker Scott and his children settled in Yamhill county, where he lived about a year. He then moved to the vicinity of Puget Sound, now in the State of Washington. In 1859 he returned to Oregon and settled three miles west of Forest Grove and twenty-three miles west of the city of Portland.

On his place was a sawmill where he did business for a time. He died at Forest Grove, Oregon, Sept. 1, 1880, where he had lived many years. His children were: Lawrence, Mary Frances, Abigail Jane, Margaret Ann, Harvey Whitefield, Catharine Amanda, Harriet Louise, John Henry, Edward, Sarah Maria, William Neill, and Alice.

- 1674 MARTHA L. ROELOFSON, daughter of (1657), was born in Henderson county, Ky., Sept. 4, 1814. She married
- 1675 Levi Coffee, cousin of John Tucker Scott. They moved to Oregon in a wagon drawn by an ox-team. Both died at Portland, Oregon, and were buried there. Their descendants were two sons, one grandson, and one great grandson. No names or dates are given.
- 1676 MARY JANE ROELOFSON, daughter of (1657), born in Henderson county, Ky., Dec. 12, 1818.
- 1677 WILLIAM A. ROELOFSON, son of (1657), born in White county, Ill., or Henderson county, Ky., March 2, 1822. He married, but no record is at hand. He lived somewhere in Illinois. In 1907 he went to Oregon to visit his relatives, and while there a family reunion of the Roelofsons in Oregon and other Western states was arranged to meet in June of each year. One hundred were present at the reunion in June, 1910, representing descendants of five of the Roelofson sisters, namely: Naomi, Esther, Tabitha, Ann, and Martha. William A. Roelofson's children were: Mary and Donald—probably others of whom no record is at hand.
- 1678 THOMAS SMITH ROELOFSON, son of (1657), born probably in White county, Ill., Aug. 17, 1825. He married
- 1679 Hannah West Gilson, Sept. 9, 1847. She was born Feb. 18, 1824, in Ohio. They lived in Dewitt county, Ill., and in 1870 moved to Missouri. His

- 1680 wife having died he married Elizabeth Kinkaid, at Bethany, Mo., Sept. 30, 1884. He died Feb. 3, 1897. He was a farmer. Children by his first wife were: Mary J., Warren Taylor, Wilber T., Winfield Theodore, Martha Jane, Hannah E. Luella E. Lorena Susan, and George Lawrence. By the second wife: Georgia, Grace Alma, Robert, and Mamie Celia. These children spell the family name Rolofson.

SIXTH GENERATION OF ROELOFSONS

- 1681 JOHN A. ROELOFSON, son of (1663). In 1910 he lived at Clinton, Ill.
- 1682 WILLIAM GOUDY, son of (1666). Married. Went to Oregon in 1852 with John Tucker Scott's family. Died about 1896. Children: Mary and Ida.
- 1683 MARY GOUDY, daughter of (1666). Married
- 1684 Mr. Hart. In 1910 they lived in Kansas.
- 1685 MINNIE GOUDY, daughter of (1666). Married
- 1686 Mr. Chenoworth, who died. She was living at Portland, Oregon, in 1910.
- 1687 JOEL H. JOHNSON, son of (1668). In 1910 was living at Portland, Oregon.
- 1688 JOHN F. GOUDY, son of (1670). In 1910 he was living at McMinville, Ore.
- 1689 MARTHA GOUDY, daughter of (1670). Married

- 1697 HARVEY WHITEFIELD SCOTT, son of (1672), born on a farm near Groveland, Tazewell county, Ill., Feb. 1, 1838. On the farm in Illinois he became inured to severe toil, doing farm work in summer, and attending the common district schools in the winter months. In 1852 his father moved with his family to Oregon, his mother dying on the way in the Black Hills. His father upon arrival in Oregon settled first in Yamhill county, where he remained about a year, and then moved to the Puget Sound country, now in Washington, and settled on a farm about twenty miles northwest of Olympia in Mason county. Here the family lived for four years, Harvey working with his father in clearing and making a farm in the wilderness. At the age of seventeen he enlisted as a private in Colonel Shaw's militia company, and fought the Indians, and fought them well, in the Indian outbreaks of 1855 and 1857. The war over, he determined to enter Pacific University, an academy at Forest Grove, some twenty miles west of Portland, Oregon, with the imposing name of University. He had for a long time desired to obtain a good education, and had studied and read at home with that end in view. He got together his few books and fewer clothes, put them on his back, and started for Forest Grove. He walked the entire distance, more than 150 miles, over the poor roads and rough trails of that early day, swimming more than one stream, and somehow getting across the Columbia River near Kalama, and again over the Willamette River at Portland. On the last day of his journey he walked fifty miles, passing through the straggling village of Portland without stopped. He entered the Academy at Forest Grove and began his studies. He paid his way by working in sawmills, teaching country schools, chopping wood, helping on farms, etc. He employed his spare hours in study, reading history, the Bible, and Shakespeare, and in 1863, when twenty-five years of age, he received his Diploma as the first graduate from Pacific University. After graduation he went to Idaho and for one year engaged in mining and whipsawing. He returned to Oregon in 1864 and was appointed librarian of the Portland Library Association. In 1865 he entered the newspaper office of the "Portland Oregonian," and soon after became its editor, which position he filled for more than forty years and was filling at the time of his death.

As a writer and editor he was bold and reliant in his utterances, naturally combative, never seeking to conciliate, seldom trying to win by persuasion, and so met with more or less opposition, but he usually prevailed. Earnest and sincere in all he did, whose advance had been gained by hard and persistent work, he had no patience with pretense, and a wholesome contempt for shams, and naturally his manner of thought and writing was fashioned after the lessons of his life. The "Oregonian" said after his death: "Avoiding all rhetorical art or indirection of language, his writings went direct to his object and commanded attention by the clearness and vigor of his statements, the firmness of his arguments, and the thorough and careful investigation of his subject. In the midst of all his journalistic and business affairs he found time to pursue literary, philosophical, theological, and classical study, to which was due his great scholarly attainments, which placed him among the few men entitled to be called learned. Personally, he was of large stature, strong features, and commanding appearance. His brusque manner was accompanied by the dignity and considerateness of the scholarly gentleman, and no man was more highly esteemed by his friends." He was made a Master Mason in 1905, and then a member of a chapter of Royal Arch Masons and of the Oregon Commandery of Knight Templars. He received the 32d degree of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite in Washington, D. C., in 1906. In 1907 he was initiated into Al Kader Temple of the Mystic Shrine. He was frequently called upon to deliver addresses at Masonic ceremonies.

In 1876 he was a delegate to the Republican National Convention at Cincinnati, Ohio, which nominated Rutherford B. Hayes for President of the United States. In 1880 he was a delegate to the Republican National Convention, which nominated James A. Garfield President of the United States. In 1904 he was elected president of the Lewis and Clark Fair Association. He was also a member of the board which drafted the charter of the City of Portland, and at the time of his death was a trustee of the Pacific University, from which he was the first graduate.

1698 In October, 1865, he married Elizabeth Nicklin. She died in 1875, leaving two children: John Harvey Lawrence and Kenneth. His second wife was 1699 Margaret McChesney, whom he married at her father's home at Latrobe, Pa., in 1876. Children by the second marriage were: Leslie M., Ambrose B., and Judith M. He took two trips abroad, in 1901 and 1906, accompanied by his wife and daughter. They visited the chief points of interest in Europe, among them Florence, Rome, Vienna, and Switzerland, besides London. He died Aug. 7, 1910, at John Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, Md., after undergoing a surgical operation. He was buried in Riverview Cemetery, Portland, Oregon. The ceremonies at the grave were conducted by Masonic fraternities, and were the most notable ever held in this country.

began the practise of law. He early took interest in politics and became an ardent Democrat. He became associated with William Jennings Bryan during his first campaign for the Presidency of the United States, and toured New York state with him on his speaking trip. When Mr. Bryan was appointed Secretary of State by President Wilson, he invited Mr. Wyvell to become his private secretary, and moved to Washington, D. C. Mr. Wyvell was later appointed counsel for the International Boundaries Commission. In July, 1916 he was sent to England by the State Department as a special representative of the U. S. Government to negotiate with the English Government in matters pertaining to German imports.
He was granted a commission as captain in the U. S.
army in 1918, and was detailed to the Army Service

Corps. Upon the cessation of hostilities he was honorably discharged at the request of the State Department, where he did important work in the Foreign Trades Bureau until Jan. 1, 1919, when he resigned to again take up the practise of law in Washington, D. C.

While in college Mr. Wyvell was fond of athletics and played in the University football team in his freshman year. He was also prominent in debate, and three times represented his college in the intercollegiate debate with Columbia University. He is a man of rare intelligence and honor, and his ability as a lawyer is well recognized in the business world.
